

A painting of a vase filled with pink and white flowers, set against a yellow background. The vase is a simple, rounded, light blue-grey color. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing deep pink centers and others being mostly white. Green leaves are interspersed among the flowers. The background is a solid, bright yellow. The style is a soft, painterly impressionism.